AT the Court at St. James's, the 20th of November, 1793,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

HIS Majesty having been pleased to appoint Sir Watkin Williams Wynne, Baronet, to be Lieutenant of the County of Merioneth, he this Day took the Oaths appointed to be taken thereupon, instead of the Oaths of Allegiance and Supremacy.

Whitehall, November 20.

THE Dispatches, of which the following are Extract and Copy, (which had not been received when the last Accounts were published) were Yesterday received at the Office of the Right Honourable Henry Dundas, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department.

Extract of a Letter from the Right Honourable Lord Mulgrave to Mr. Secretary Dundas, dated Toulon, October 18, 1793.

ON the 14th of October, at Eleven o'Clock in the Morning, I perceived the Army of General Carteaux, to the Westward of Toulon, to be formed in Line, and advancing from the Hills towards the Redoubt of Malbousquet. The Garrison of Toulon (leaving the necessary Guards and a small Detachment to secure the Tranquillity of the Town) was marched out, to the Number of about 3000 Men, to take a defensive Position between the Redoubts Malbousquet and St. Antoine, and behind the Riviere Neuve, a deep and dry Canal lying North and South in Front of those Redoubts. Three Bridges, which crossed the Canal on the Roads leading to Broussan, Marseilles, and the Village of Six Fours, had been broken by my Orders soon after my Arrival at Toulon. In this Position we had not any View of the Enemy, who were concealed by intermediate Hills between their Line and the Plain occupied by the Garrison of Toulon. I detached a Captain, with 70 British and 30 Piedmontese Chasseurs, to a rising Ground (the Hauteur des Arennes) beyond the Riviere Neuve, to discover the Movements of the Enemy, with Orders to remain there till I should call them in, if they saw no considerable Body; but to return immediately if the Enemy appeared in Force, and on no Account to engage in any Way with the Enemy, so as to oblige me to march to their Support, as it was not my Intention to make any Attack, or to come to Action beyond the Riviere Neuve; the Smallness of our Numbers, the Impossibility of carrying our Field Artillery across the Canal, and the certain Information I had received that the Enemy had numerous Batteries on the strong Ground which they occupied, determined me to wait their Attack (if they intended one) behind the Riviere Neuve, and under the Protection of the Redoubts on the Flanks of our Position. Whilst the Patrole of Ninety Men proceeded to the Hill pointed out to them, I was employed in forming the Line of British and Piedmontese, and Two Battalions of Neapolitans, Messabia and Royal Naples: Brigadier General Squierdo and Pignatelli having gone to the Left to place the Remainder of the Neapolitans and the Spanish Troops, and to order a Patrole (similar to that which I had sent out) to an Hill, the Hauteur des Gands, in Front of the Left of our Position. Before the Line was completely formed, I heard the Patrole of British engaged in an heavy Fire with the Enemy, and saw small Parties retreating: I sent immediately the Whole of the Piedmontese Chasseurs to support the Patrole and bring them off. The Appearance of this Reinforcement had the Effect of animating the advanced Soldiers of the British, who, in Spite of the Remonstrances of their Officers, pressed forward upon the Enemy. The Piedmontese followed the Example; and, as I found the whole Detachment were advancing upon the Enemy, I was obliged to march out with 200 British, Three Companies of the Regiment de Piedmont, and Half of each of the Regiments of Neapolitan Troops, leaving the Remainder of my Wing of the Army to guard our Position, and to check the Enemy if they should press upon us on our Return. The Patrole had pushed on to a considerable Distance, and had driven in all the advanced Parties of the Enemy, before I could bring them off, which, however, was effected with no further Loss than that which they had sustained in the rash but spirited Enterprize of the Soldiers, which obliged their Officers to follow them to a Distance of a Mile and a Half beyond the Riviere Neuve. The Patrole on the Left, with which Brigadier General Squierdo and Pignatelli had proceeded, consisting of about 800 Men, had gone forward near a Mile to the Petite Garenne, and in Sight of the Intrenchment which the Enemy had thrown up on the Road to Olioulles: As this Party had kept up a continued Fire on the advanced Corps of the Enemy, I apprehended they might be in Want of Ammunition to make good their Retreat; and, having regained La Hauteur des Arennes with my whole Corps, I detached 100 British, 100 Piedmontese, and One of the Half Battalions of Neapolitans, to assist their Retreat, who found them preparing to return to our Line. The Enemy, in all Probability, expected an Attack from us, which prevented their quitting their Post to bring their whole Force upon our small Detachments, which had imprudently rushed forwards. Night coming on, the Enemy (having probably lost several Men from the Vivacity with which they were pressed) retired to their Camp without attempting any Attack. The Garrison marched back to Toulon at about Ten o'Clock at Night.

I have the Honor to inclose you a Return of the Killed and Wounded in this Skirmish, in which I have only to regret the too great Impetuosity of the Troops of the Patrole, but have every Reason to applaud the judicious Conduct of Lieutenant-Colonel Chevalier de Revels, and of Captain Wemyss and Lieutenant St. George, of the 11th Regiment, under the Circumstances which obliged them to go to so hazardous a Distance from our Post of Defence.

On the 15th in the Morning the unfortunate Affair of Cape Le Bruu took Place: I send you a Copy

Copy of Governor Elphinstone's Report of this Action to Vice-Admiral Lord Hood.

As soon as the Report came to me of Cape Brun being attacked and requiring Succour, I ordered the Garrison Picquet to turn out immediately, and the Remainder of the Troops to get under Arms, and sent the Report I had received to the General Officers commanding the Foreign Troops. Before the Picquet of 100 Men had got beyond the Gate of the Town, a Report came of our Troops having been repulsed from Cape Brun; that they had retired into Fort La Malue; and that the whole Army of General La Poype had been marched from La Garde for the Attack of Cape Brun, and were at that Time in Possession of it.

We marched out of the Gate d'Italie as soon as the Garrison could be collected under Arms, consisting of the same Numbers as the Day before, with Eight Field Pieces and Two Eighteen-Pounders, with the Addition of 60 Spanish Dragoons of 160, which landed on the 12th Instant, (the remaining Horses not being yet fit for Service.)

Having reconnoitred the Situation of the Enemy, I found they had abandoned Cape Brun, and had formed their whole Force further to the Eastward, on the Hauteur Le Pradel, with their Left covered by the Castle St. Marguerite, which has Two Twelve-Pounders pointed to the Land Side; their Field Pieces were distributed along the Front of their Line. It occurred to me that the most safe and effectual Mode of dislodging them from their strong Post would be to march immediately forward, under Protection of the Guns of our Forts, on the Side of Mount Faron, to proceed towards La Vallette, and strike off to the Hauteurs de Thouars, about a Mile to the Eastward of La Vallette, and commanding La Garde at something more than a Quarter of a Mile Distance from that Village. It was my Intention to occupy Thouars and La Garde, by which we should command the whole Plain and the Two great Roads, one leading to Hieres, and passing to the Eastward of La Garde, the other passing through La Vallette and leading to Souliers. Generals Squierdo and Pignatelli being of the same Opinion with me, we proceeded on the Road to La Vallette, leaving 140 Men with Two Eighteen-Pounders in that Village (under the Protection of the Guns of Fort Faron) to mask the Vallon de Favieres, and prevent the Enemy from sending Reinforcements by that Pass from their Posts at Tounis and Le Reveit. At the Commencement of our March, the Enemy expected an Attack, and drew up their Force; as we proceeded they appeared in some Degree of Hurry and Confusion, and at length quitted their Post to march towards La Garde. Unfortunately, from an Error of the Guide, the Spanish Troops, which led the Column, were carried beyond the Point at which they should have gained the Hauteurs de Thouars; and when the Rear Division of the Column, composed of the British and Piedmontese Troops, which was to have formed the Left of the Line, arrived at the Foot of that Hill, we found the Advance formed with their Right to the Hauteurs and their Left extending towards La Vallette. I immediately marched the British and Piedmontese Troops to the Top of the Hauteurs de Thouars, taking the Right of our Position; the Spanish and Part of the Neapolitan Troops came up on our Left; Brigadier-General Pignatelli remaining with 350 Men to keep up the Communication with the Corps posted at La Vallette. It was with great Regret that I perceived the Enemy (who had pressed their March rapidly) entering La Garde at the Moment we possessed ourselves of the Hauteurs de Thouars. By the Activity and Exertions of Colonel Minichini of the Albanese Neapolitan Corps, and Captain Collier of the British Artillery, we got our Field Pieces to the Top of the Hills, through very steep and difficult Passages. The Enemy made various Movements, but without attempting any Thing more than a Cannonade from La Garde, which we returned, and dismounted One of their Guns. When Night set in they began to remove with their Artillery towards Hieres. I sent forward a Patrole, under Captain Moncrief of the 11th Regiment, consisting of 100 British Troops, a Company of Piedmontese Grenadiers, and the Grenadier Company of the Spanish Swiss Regiment of Betchar, to find whether they had evacuated La Garde. This Patrole was fired upon by a strong Rear Guard, posted in Vineyards and in the Houses of the Village, which cover the Sides of a Sugar Loaf Hill, the Top of which is crowned by an old Castle. The main Object of our Movement having been obtained, by the Retreat of the Enemy from the Situation they had occupied in the Morning near St. Marguerite, it would have been highly imprudent to have sacrificed any Part of our small Force, in the Attack of a strong Village, which we must of Necessity have abandoned next Morning. The Troops having been much fatigued the Day before, and having been left (by the Mismanagement of the Persons charged at Toulon with the Supply of Provisions) without any Food till Ten o'Clock at Night, it was at that Hour determined to march back into the Town.

La Malgue, October 16, 1793.

MY LORD,

I Have the Honor to inform your Lordship, that, in consequence of the Enemy's having repeatedly appeared on the important Hill of Cape Brun, which overlooks this Fort, and commands a great Part of the Harbour, I ordered 100 Men of Hunsberrys, or Battalion of Royal Louis, to be posted there, and on the 14th repaired there, with the Engineers, to prepare for it's Defence; and, after they had marked out the Situation of an intended Work, I sent a Re-inforcement of 100 of the Regiment of Royal Louis. On the 15th, before Day, the Report of Musquetry was heard, which increased with the Light, and induced me to order 100 of the 30th Regiment, 100 Neapolitans, 50 Spaniards, and the Remainder of the Royal Louis, to follow me there. By the Time I got to the Bottom of the Hill the Fire was become very brisk, and I had some Difficulty to get up by the Road. The Troops from La Malgue were nearly up, by a shorter Road through Vineyards. I detached Captain Torriano, of the 30th, to go round the Left of the Hill, and take the Enemy on their Right Flank. This had the desired Effect, and they gave Way. On the Top of the Hill I found the Royal Louis defending themselves gallantly, although hard pressed, but the Out-Posts driven in, and the Men in Want of Cartridges. I advanced with the fresh Troops, and recovered our Out-Posts, after an obstinate Resistance, and placed Captain Tomlinson, of the 30th, in the Advance, the Neapolitan in the Center, Captain Torriano on the Left, with Royal Louis and the Spanish Troops on the Right; and it was near an Hour before the Enemy retired. They were supported by Cannon; we had none. I had previously sent an Aide de Camp to La Malgue for Cartridges, and to Toulon for Support of Troops. The Enemy, notwithstanding they were greater in Force than I expected, did not seem disposed to renew the Attack; infomuch, that I ordered the Workmen to begin the Redoubt, visited the Posts, and then returned to the Fort for the Purpose of hurrying up Guns, Ammunition, Provisions, &c. and repeating my Request of Men from Toulon. In Half an Hour after I had left Cape Brun, the whole Army of the Enemy had advanced under Cover of Woods, and, supported by Artillery, attacked the Post on all Sides, and carried it in consequence of Numbers, notwithstanding a most distinguished Resistance. I am sorry to inform that, in both Affairs, many brave Officers and Men fell. In the Person of Captain Torriano His Majesty lost one of the most respectable Officers in Europe. Were I to enter upon the Conduct of the Officers and Men, I should fail in doing Justice to their Merit. The 30th Regiment did all that Men could do; and the Battalion of Royal Louis, although only a few Days formed, fought with determined Valour. The fortunate Recovery of the Post was so immediately under your Lordship's Eye, that it is unnecessary for me to add more, than that I have the Honor to be, &c.
